GETTYSBURG.

Statues of Generals Meade
and Hancock Were Unveiled There Today.

MANY DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

CROWDS WITNESS THE UN-VEILING OF THE STATUES OF GENERAL MEADE AND
HANCOCK.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.) GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 5.—An immense crowd of veterans and others gathered on the battle field today to witness the unveiling of the splendid equestrian statues erected by the state of Pennsylvania in honor of the memory of George Meade and Winfield S. Hancock.The ceremonies began with the unveiling of the Meade memorial at 10.30 o'clock.
This was performed by a grandson of the dead hero, bearing the same name. As the drapery fell from the beautiful statue, light battery C, U. S. A., fired a salute.
Dedicated services followed conducted by Meade post, No. 1, G. A. R. General Gobin on behalf of the commission which supervised the erection of the statues formerly transferred the memorial to Governor Hastings who received it on behalf of the state. The oration was delivered by General David McMurtre Gregg of Reading, the famous commander of the second cavalry division in the battle of Gettysburg. This concluded the Meade ceremonies.At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Hancock statue was unveiled. The ceremonies were much the same as those of the Meade unveiling. Battery "C" fired a salute and Gobin transferred the statue to the state.
Governor Hastings accepted it. The oration was delivered by General Henry H.
Bingham who was on Hancock's staff at Gettysburg. A hundred Grand Army men who attended the annual meeting at Chambersburg stopped here on their way home to participate in the ceremonies.Among the distinguished men present were Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding U. S. A., General Crook who commands the department of the Platte, Colonel George Meade, son of General Meade, Colonel Findley Anderson of New York, and many others.
The statues unveiled today are very handsome pieces of work. They are erected at the state's expense, costing over $300,000. The work was begun two years ago under the direction of a state commission.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

A Brewery's Big Ice House goes Up in Flames Early This Morning.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.) BOSTON, June 5.—The mammoth ice house of the Boylston brewery, owned and operated by the New England Brewing company at Boylston station, was destroyed and the main brewery building considerably damaged by a fire which broke out just after 2 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at $75,000 by a member of the firm. It is covered by insurance. Until repairs are completed, about seventy employees will be out of work.

BURDEN DIAMOND ROBBERS.

One Pleads Guilty When Arraigned
in Court in New York
Today.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
NEW YORK, June 5.—Dunlop and Turner, the Burden diamond robbers, extradited from London for the larceny of $38,000 worth of diamonds, were arraigned before Judge Cowling in general sessions today. Dunlop pleaded guilty, but Turner entered the plea of not guilty and refused counsel. Both were remanded to jail.

FAMOUS MURDERER LOCATED

Salt Lake City's Murderous Minister now Known to be in St.
Louis.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—Chief Harrigan and his detectives have learned positively that Hermann, Salt Lake City's fugitive minister, charged with double murder, was at the St. Louis union station May 11.They have traced his movements since and Harrigan admits he knows where the alleged criminal is hiding. He also admitted that he sent a telegram yesterday to Chief Pratt of Salt Lake City informing him that he had Hermann located and if the authorities would send money to St.
Louis police, he would bring about the criminal's apprehension. Chief Harrigan refused to go into details.Hermann was traced to St. Louis by means of two baggage checks. The description of the man to whom the checks were given here tallies precisely with Hermann's appearance.

PRESIDENT REBUKED.

Senator Morgan Today Scores Mr.
Cleveland on His Cuban Policy.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Cuban question is up in the senate today with a vengeance. Senator Morgan argued for action on his resolution requesting information as to the capture of the "Competitor" and the events following.
Morgan upbraided the president for his lack of attention to American interests and this attempt to slaughter Americans.
Senator Mills and Morgan both showed what a farce the trial of the Americans had been. It was conducted in Spanish and the Americans could not understand a word.Senator Morgan said congress ought not to adjourn till the president had taken some steps to right this wrong to American citizens.
Senator Morgan's time of speaking was extraordinarily extended by compliment of other senators.The house is crowding bills of minor importance today, looking to adjournment.

FINALLY HANGED.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.) CHICAGO, June 5.—Manacled but struggling feebly with his guards and with incoherent cries, Joseph Windrath, the wife-murderer, once respited as being insane, was executed this afternoon in the county jail. Even to the last second Win-drath feigned insanity.

A Williamsport man has surprised the scientists by living for years without a brain. John Bly, aged 30 years, who died recently, had suffered for a long time with a tumor, which grew into the very base of the brain and occasioned his death. The growth had a visible effect upon his brain, and the case became a curiosity to the medical world. The tumor was removed before death, but the brain tissue was admitted to an operation. It was found that the tumor was nearly as large as a billiard ball. It was so located as to demoralize the nerves of the sight center, and, as a consequence, young Bly was blind for over three years.It was developed at the autopsy that the entire brain had been hollowed out by the action of the tumor. The cavity was at least 5 inches in length and was filled with pus. All that was left of the brain was a thin shell, composed of the tougher tissue, which was less susceptible to the process of decay. When an incision was made in the shell, the whole mass collapsed.
The circumstance which made the case almost unprecedented in the annals of medical science was the manner in which the patient retained his rationality and faculties under the circumstances. He had the senses of touch, taste, hearing and smell, had very tolerable control of his locomotor muscles, could talk, and, in fact, was comparatively discommoded in no other way than by the loss of vision. His retention of memory was remarkable. He was able to memorize poems up to within

QUEEN OF THE SEAS.

The St. Paul Today Breaks all Southampton Records for Ocean Racing.

RECORD LOWERED 3 1-2 HOURS

AN AMERICAN STEAMER MAKES
THE TRIP IN 6 DAYS, 5 1-2 HOURS AND GETS TO
NEW YORK THIS AFTERNOON.(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
NEW YORK, June 5.—Another ocean record has been broken and this time by an American-built boat. The stars and stripes were over the fastest ocean greyhound now afloat as demonstrated by the St. Paul which arrived in New York today.The American liner's wonderful feat is in having broken all the Southampton records.
The St. Paul left Southampton at noon last Saturday and passed the needles at 1.25 this afternoon.Allowing an hour and a half to reach Sandy Hook Light, which was an easy feat to accomplish at her rate of speed when run off the needles, her time is six days five and one-half hours, reducing the previous fastest record by three and one-half hours.The German Police.
There is little possibility of independence in speech or action. The police are always at your elbow, and you if you do not carry out their injunctions to the letter.
There has lately been a striking illustration of the power of the police in Vienna, and certainly their power is not less in the German empire. In both cases they are protected almost beyond the possibility of contention by the so-called Disciple, or service oath. If I remember rightly, this oath is held to be equivalent as evidence to the oaths of five independent witnesses—that is to say, to disprove a policeman's story you must find six independent witnesses to testify to your version of the facts. As this is in 99 cases out of 100 impossible, the policeman is master of the situation. He is in his way an auto-crat and can be as arbitrary as he pleases.
I am bound to add that, from what I have seen of the Prussian police, I should say they are, as a body, anxious to do their duty properly, but they have very little of the forbearance which is so marked a characteristic of the English constable. They do not understand argument, much less contradiction. Each bears a sword and has no idea of bearing it in vain. In all this he is supported and encouraged by the higher authorities.The police, consisting of old soldiers, are at all intents and purposes a military force, and are meant to terrorize the masses. To refuse to obey their orders, even if unjustifiable, is a very grave offense; actually to resist them is a crime punished with far greater severity in Germany than in England.—Contemporary Review.

MURDEROUS BRAWL.

The Infamous "State Line House" Is the Scene of a Brutal Shooting Scrape.

TWO MEN NEARLY KILL EACH OTHER.

"Proprietor" Gooden's Head Pounded into a Jelly and John Hourahan, Filled With Shot, Lies Dangerously Wounded
in This City.The ill-famed and notorious resort, known as the "State Line house," in the Stamford valley, has once more come into prominence, and, as usual, through criminal acts. The report reached this city about 9 o'clock Thursday evening that Tom Gooden, the proprietor of the house had shot and killed John Hourahan. The report caused some excitement and people were eager to obtain any sort of information.Officers on the Way.
Sheriff Frink and Captain Dineen were soon after 9 o'clock on their way to Stamford to investigate the story. When the officers arrived at the house all was as quiet as a New England village could be.
The only visible light came from a small hand lamp which was in a bed room on the north side of the house.
After repeated knockings and calls for "Duffy," the man of all-work about the place, the back door was cautiously opened and the officers followed by three reporters entered the room.Gooden's Condition.
Gooden was found in his bed room, undressed and in the bed. His face was battered and blood stained, his eyes were hardly distinguishable because of swelling and his face was so changed that his best friend would have had difficulty to identify him. Sheriff Frink sent for Dr.
Nichols, and while waiting for his arrival the man named "Duffy" was put under pressure for what information he could give on the subject.All Mm at the Line House.
No amount of questioning could make "Duffy" talk intelligently and he was firm in his avowals of entire ignorance of the facts. There were two women in bed in a room off from the dining room and when they were aroused from their pretended slumber and asked what they knew about the shooting they professed surprise when informed of the disturbance.More Officers Arrived.
While Dr. Nichols was dressing Gooden's wounds Sheriff Frink and Captain Dineen arrived on the scene and brought news of John Hourahan, the man who was shot. After being shot he made his escape to his home on Ashland street, North Adams, where Dr. Mignault was summoned.Hourahan's Story.
Hourahan was called upon about 1 o'clock by Sheriff Frink and Captain Dineen and told his story very willingly and, if it is true, he narrowly escaped being murdered.A TRANSCRIPT reporter saw Hourahan at his home this morning and obtained the version of the row, which is in substance as follows: The disturbance originated in the yard in front of the "line house" about 7 o'clock. Hourahan who worked for Gooden said he was coming to this city for the evening and for some reason or other Gooden objected. The dispute in the front yard came to blows and after Hourahan he yelled out "If you touch that horse I'll kill you." Hourahan went to the barn in the rear of the house and started to harness his horse. When he had nearly finished Gooden came out of the back door carrying a double barrel shot gun in his hands and boiling with rage. He told Hourahan to take his hands off that horse or he would shoot him. A moment later and the first barrel had discharged and Hourahan's right hand received a portion of the charge. He advanced toward Gooden who was about twenty feet away and before he had taken two steps the contents of the other barrel was discharged in his left side and back.
He fell, overcome with his wounds, and Gooden used the gun as a club upon his head. Hourahan wrenched the gun away and turned the tables by getting Gooden down and clubbing him about the head.
The gun was broken at the stock and while he was giving his attention to beating Gooden, Jess, a notorious woman im-mate of the house picked up the barrels and struck Hourahan on the head. He decided to leave and jumping onto his horse fled hastily to the next house, where he procured a carriage and hastened to his home 129 Ashland street in this city.Hourahan's Wounds.
Hourahan's left side from his knee to his chest was torn badly with the fine bird shot. He had been weakened by his ride and when the doctors saw him his condition was very unfavorable. Several shots had lodged near his heart and the flesh covering his ribs was badly lacerated.
The nature of his wounds makes it quite impossible to foretell the result. The door leading to Gooden's bed room had been smashed open and one of the panes was kicked out. Whether it was done for a means of defence is questioned by the officers.Arrests This Afternoon.
About 1 o'clock this afternoon Captain Dineen, Officer Robertson and Deputy Sheriff Frink, were met by two Vermont officers at the line house and Gooden, his man "Duffy" and two women were placed under arrest and brought to North Adams in hacks.Gooden is in bad shape, and may lose one of his eyes. His face looks like a raw beef steak and his groaning when arrested this afternoon was pitiable.Hourahan's Condition—Later.
Dr. Mignault says Hourahan is resting as quietly as could be expected. No serious results have been manifested up to 4 o'clock this afternoon. The physician fears that some of the shot has entered Hourahan's kidney and bowels and says a few days will be required to learn definitely. If such is the case his chances of recovery are few.A Shower of Rocks.
Started the Residents of South Church Street the Other Day.Some of the residents of South Church street were startled Wednesday by a shower of rocks which fell directly after a blast at the old Band quarry on the hill east of the street. A good sized chunk came down in T. W. Richmond's door-yard and some slate was broken on the roof of N. L. Millard's barn. The men who were working the quarry were informed that they were damaging property and endangering life, and that greater caution should be exercised in their operations. It is probable there will be no further trouble.Miss Mary R. Cady has been appointed Happenings of Interest in Our Neighbor Towns.

AT ADAMS TODAY

THE NEW POLICE STATION.

Description of the Building the Town Is Asked to Erect.

The police station committee met in Judge Birby's office Thursday evening and completed the report which they will submit to the town Saturday. They have selected the land back of the town hall as a site for the proposed station-house which will be a two-story brick building with thirty-five feet front and a depth of fifty feet.

On the first floor, a six foot hallway runs from the door. The first room on the left of the hallway, and in the north-west corner of the building is the main office which will measure 13x13 feet. On the other side of the hallway is a tramps room 13x13 feet. Back of the tramps room is a detention room measuring ten feet each way. A store room 13x12 is back of the office. The whole back part of the building on this floor is the cell-room which has a measurement of 33x22 feet.

The patrolmen's room, 13x16 feet in size, is in the north-west corner on the second floor. Connected with it behind is a 9x12 feet bath-room. There are three rooms on the floor of the south side which may be used as detention rooms or as an emergency hospital. Behind them is a padded cell 6x8 feet and a woman's cell room is just back of it. On the north side in the rear of the building there is a spare cell room, 22x20 feet, which can be used hereafter if the demands of the town require it. The cost of building and furnishing the proposed structure will be $5,500.

SATURDAY'S TOWN MEETING.

Important Business to be Done by the Voters of Adams.

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon all the voters of the town should be at the opera house to vote upon the important articles in the warrant of the special town meeting. One article is to see if the town will issue bonds for the use of the fire districts to purchase the more adequate water supply. The other is to act upon the report of the committee appointed at the annual meeting to procure plans and select a site for a police station and report later. This is an important article as the building is absolutely a necessity.

Slumbering While on Duty.

Early Thursday morning Dick Savage, the center fielder black "got a shine" and after he had dabbed one of the shoes looked for his brushes to bring out the latest brilliancy. They were off duty. Dick immediately accused every suspicious character in Berkshire county with stealing them. He ran with all speed for police and wanted Officer Ford to have a warrant sworn out for somebody, he didn't care who. When he came back his customer was gone and the brushes were peacefully reclining in the drawer of Dick's stand just as though they had never wandered off. The brushes were taken while the young man was enjoying his afternoon nap between noon and supper time.

Kane-Lark Nuptials.

Michael Kane of Sumner street and Miss Ann Clark were united in marriage at St. Charles parsonage Thursday evening by Rev. M. J. Coyne. James L. Barrett was best man and Mrs. Ellen Beardsley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kane entertained friends at the Central house.

Herbert White Dead.

Herbert White died at his home on Willow street this morning. Mr. White has lived in town many years and made and sold violins upon which instrument he was an excellent performer. He was unmarried and his only relatives are Wellington White, his brother, and family.

The next meeting of the Tuesday Evening Whist club will be held with Mr. and Mrs. C. Fayles at their home on Liberty street.

Sergeant Hodecker will have charge of Company M's advance squad which will go to South Framingham Saturday and have everything in readiness for the company upon its arrival Monday. The company will leave here at 9:45 o'clock Monday morning. P. J. Keilher has been engaged to take charge of the Mess house.

Miss May Ansie has returned to her home in Pittsfield after a visit with local relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Harrington have invited a large number of friends to be present at a cotton wedding which they will hold this evening in honor of the first anniversary of their marriage.

The opening of the "Model" shoe store in Jones' block Thursday evening was well attended and every visitor was given a fan.

David Byars and family of Great Barrington have located at Zylontle.

A daughter was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Amos Paro of East Hoosac street.

Miss Jeannette McKeljohn has bought a ticket through the P. N. Smith agency and will sail from New York for Scotland, June 12, on the "State of California," of the Allen line.

Rev. James M. Cruise of St. Joseph's church, Chicopee, will preach to the Sacred Heart league at St. Charles church this evening.

The committee arranging for the St. Jean Baptiste society's Fourth of July celebration will meet Sunday.

A new lamp post has been set up in front of the opera house, with Welsbach light.

W. H. Hill of New York is L. L. Brown's guest.

Diplomas and crosses will be conferred upon the new Hoosac Heart League promoters at St. Charles church Sunday.

The Renfrews will play in Orange Saturday and it is probable that McBride and Ruddy will be the battery.

James O'Neil has resigned his place as carman at the Hoosac Valley street railway car barns and will go to work in the Berkshire mills.

F. L. Snow and R. N. Richmond went trout-fishing Thursday and caught two speckled beauties.

The Adams Power company is spending considerable money laying out walks and lawns and otherwise improving the grounds about the Mannesman company's plant. Work is getting on speedily at the reservoir.

Large stock of sailor's at great reduction. Mrs. L. A. Tucker, 20 Eagle street.

LOST.—In front of the Armory building, a pair of new glasses. Finder will please leave a card at the residence.

W. L. Phillips, who resides next door to the Methodist church, uses good work as a painter and paper hanger. The number of his post office box is 122.

CHESHIRE.

The "Cedars" was opened for the season by New York parties, who came Thursday, Mrs. M. A. Brawley and Miss K. Brawley and Miss M. M. Sicketts.

Mr. Brown's rooms are all engaged for the summer.

Mrs. Julia Payne of Geneva, O., returned Thursday.

The funeral of the Miller child was held today at 2 o'clock p. m.

Miss Cole of Williamstown is visiting at W. H. Morgan's on Depot street.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church will hold their monthly business meeting with Mrs. C. T. Fitch on Main street Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Nina Place of Pownal, Vt., was at R. L. Wood's Monday.

A party of Dalton people visited the Sons of Temperance Thursday evening and had supper.

L. J. Fish is thoroughly remodeling his heating arrangements at his residence on Main street.

The leading summering places here are beginning to be patronized by city folks, several arriving at the "Cedars" on Thursday.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

At the June meeting of the Board of Health, licences were granted to George M. Hopkins and E. E. Evans to act as undertakers for the town of Williamstown and no burial permits will be allowed parties not holding a license. This law goes into effect immediately.

L. N. Bidwell, '98, while racing in Hanover had the misfortune to be thrown from his bicycle. He is now at the infirmary.

The Williamstown team will play the Dartmouth team at tennis this afternoon and Saturday morning.

The last annual dance was held in Grange hall Thursday evening. The children's class Friday afternoon will be continued for some time.

Miss Rean of Stamford, Conn., is the guest of Mrs. Morse at the White Oaks chapel parsonage.

The Volunteer Hose company had practice in running on Cole avenue Thursday evening.

Charles S. Cole is cutting a substantial gutter in front of his house on Cole avenue and has straightened the walk for some distance.

Large stock of sailor's at great reduction. Mrs. L. A. Tucker, 20 Eagle street.

HEMLOCK BROOK.

B. G. Blake and wife have been on a visit to relatives in Worthington.

Jerry Culamane has given up his position in Boston and is again at work for Homer Torrey.

The steam mill started up last week on a large order of oak timber for the Fitchburg railroad.

Mrs. Theresa Blair Carpenter of Pittsfield is visiting with her mother Mrs. Mrs. James Blake.

Lawyer Dexter Bailey of Troy, spent Sunday with the family of his father-in-law Lyman Galusha on Bee hill.

Extra visits to schools and more frequent teacher's meetings some of these last called on Saturday, are the result of having a superintendent of schools.

Whether this will prove to be of $1200 extra permanent value to the town and the schools is yet to be judged. Some doubt. Aside from the introduction, occasionally, of new systems, teachers to succeed must be guided mostly by their own experience and knowledge of the particular school they preside over. That there is a royal road to learning may be supplemented by the statement that too frequent changes in methods, text books and discipline generally, will not arouse zeal, nor develop interest. Too much system, like too much government, or too close surveillance over that which should be left entirely to the teacher, is apt to defeat the end for which it aims.

Henry Poase is again confined to his home and was quite ill for a few days, the result of being about too soon after his previous illness.

SOUTH WILLIAMSTOWN.

Leroy B. Smith, a successful farmer having had some experience in the culture of strawberries while living in the town of Somerset near Boston, is trying the experiment on his farm in this place, with very satisfactory results thus far. He has this spring set out one and a half acres with new plants and has two acres ready to be harvested this season. He has seven different varieties in all, among them being the celebrated Bribach. He expects to begin to supply orders from the earliest ones in two or three weeks.

The popularity of the "Idewild" was manifest last Saturday, Memorial day by about one hundred and fifty being entertained throughout the day and evening.

Frequent rehearsals are given in preparation of the exercises for children's day which will take place June 13.

Mrs. Charles Crocker came from Holyoke last Friday, and will spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Smith.

Mrs. Rufus Young of Troy, N. Y., who has been the guest of Mrs. Sarah C. Smith for a few days returned to her home last Monday.

Miss Maggie Ingraham recently spent a short time with friends in this place before going to Cheshire where she expects to spend the summer.

Miss Minnie A. Torrey came from Buffalo last Monday and will spend the summer at the home of her father, J. C. Torrey.

Miss Julia Young, who has spent the winter in Troy, N. Y., returned to her residence in this place last Wednesday.

Mrs. Homer Torrey, president of the Berkshire county W. C. T. U., returned Wednesday from attending the annual convention which was held in Pittsfield last Tuesday.

Robert Drew recently purchased a horse of Burton Lamb on very reasonable terms and being very fond of horses thinks he will enjoy the use of it for pleasure riding, much better than as would a bicycle.

Flowers were placed on the graves of six soldiers in the cemetery in this place on Memorial day.

The burning of Mason's mill in Cheshire last week was supposed to be incendiary.

NORTH HANCOCK.

W. A. Mason's saw-mill was burned early in the morning May 30. It is not known how the fire started but Mr. Mason thinks it must have been smoldering all night. The engine and boiler and only a part of the machinery were saved, but the saws were ruined among other things. Very fortunately the fire did not reach the piles of lumber in the yard, or his loss would have been much heavier.

The first social of the season for the benefit of the Sunday school which was held at John Jones, South Williamstown, May 22, was a very pleasant affair. The collection amounted to $3.85.

Dr. L. D. Woodbridge of Williamstown will be here at the Sunday school on children's day.

Why does not the school committee have the flag pole put in order so that the flag can be raised on school days. Miss White has not been able to have it raised since she had been teaching.

Some of the pupils were in Hancock Decoration day and joined in the exercises doing great credit to their teacher as well as to themselves.

JACKSONVILLE.

May 23, Rev. A. A. Smith of Wilmington occupied the Methodist pulpit in this village in exchange with Rev. Mr. Vail. Mr. Smith's sermon on "Fidelity, or the power of reason and belief in the teaching of the Bible" was a scholarly effort and many regret not being present. We wish this same address might be repeated here and due notice given of the same that all might hear it.

C. H. Shephardson of Belknap Falls was in town a few days last week fishing and visiting old friends.

Road commissioner Lester Corso is evidently the right man in the right place. Evidence of this is seen in his work on the highways he has repaired this spring.

The majority of people in town like town officers that have some public spirit, and are willing to make things look attractive as well as useful.

Miss Lottie Cahoe made her friends here a short visit recently.

George Haskins of North Adams visited at E. P. Reed's last week.

Gilbert McClure of Guilford, an old army drummer, came over and assisted our local drum corps memorial day.

Irrving Pierce and family of Readsboro visited here over Sunday. In a conversation with your correspondent Mr. Pierce expressed heartfelt gratitude toward the people of Readsboro who had recently so kindly assisted himself and family. Truly such deeds of kindness have a powerful influence for the good of mankind.

Joseph Farnum of Whitingham is visiting friends here. Mr. Farnum is eighty-six years old but says he is as well as any one, except his eyesight is somewhat impaired.

Whistling Ern Tenny has a boy four years old who recently saw his father catch a chicken, chop off the head and carry into the house to be cooked. Memorial day said boy went to a coop where there was an old hen with a brood of chickens, tipped the coop over, took out the hen chopped off her head and came tugging the body in and handed it to his father.

A base ball game Memorial day between the first and second nines of Jacksonville resulted in a very close victory for the former. A little more practice for the juveniles and the "Old uns" will have to look out for their laurels.

Those who had not left the village soon after the exercises closed at the church Saturday were treated to a fine concert by the Readsboro city band. This band had been at West Halifax for the day and stopped at the Glen House on their way home and gave a concert in the streets. That it was fine every one admits. Band boys that can play such fine music as the cornet solo by A. W. Harrington and the baritone solo by Antonio Zeni are not very plenty.

HAWLEY.

On Thursday last week the house of Timothy Smith caught fire from the chimney and would have been destroyed, but for the timely assistance of neighbors. The furniture was slightly damaged and the house will need much repairing.

Miss Minnie Hutchinson from Bridgeville is teaching school in district No. 3. She takes the place of Miss A. C. Seawall who resigned on account of ill health.

Mrs. M. E. Dalrymple is stopping for a few weeks with her sister Mrs. Anna Holden.

A. C. Bissell is on the sick list. Jennie Smith of Holyoke is visiting at T. P. Smith's.

Memorial day was observed in Miss Cronach's school Friday afternoon. A goodly number of parents and friends was present.

LINE.

We noticed the TRANSCRIPT gave the preference to the fair sex of being honest in business transactions. A traveling salesman says that in ninety-nine cases in one-hundred the fair sex are for paying their honest debts.

The checks which N. H. Shephardson lost were found under a rug where they in some way became hidden from view. On the day previous to Decoration day the Tassel Hill school united with the River school in their recitations.

SOMERSET.

Dr. Titus, the Wilmington healer, and K. P. Ames were at the River View house last week.

C. A. Burnap has gone to Cheshire, Mass., where he will open a jewelry shop. His many friends wish him much success.

S. T. Davenport was in town last week.

Fred Tudor has purchased a span of horses from John Carrier of Readsboro Falls.

READSBORO ITEMS.

—The Carpenter building is being re-shingled.

—P. Rogan of Wilmington was in Readsboro Monday.

—John Carpenter has gone to Stamford to work a few weeks.

—Major H. R. Chase of Northampton has been in town this week.

—William Robinson and wife visited in Cheshire last week a few days.

—G. M. Bemis left for county court at Manchester Tuesday morning.

—W. D. McNeill and Robert Bynum spent Memorial day in Wilmington.

—H. A. Farnsworth has taken the agency for the Ellis laundry of North Adams.

—The road between this village and Hartwellville is being repaired and just now is in bad shape for traveling.

—Landford Goodell tried his luck fishing Tuesday and came home with a handsome string of trout. They were all over the six-inch limit.

—Clark W. Bryan, the publisher and literary man of Springfield, was in town Tuesday, stopping one night at the Goodell house.

—Town Treasurer Parsons has his tax notices posted. Taxes paid into the treasury before August 29 are subject to a discount of four per cent.

—A party of four from Hartford were at the Goodell house last week and the first of this. It is getting about the season for city people to seek the cool country air.

—Superintendent Gagnon of the Readsboro Leather company went to Greenbush, N. Y., last week and again Tuesday to straighten out the business there. The business does not seem to run as smoothly there as it does at their works here.

ROWE.

—The temperance lecture given by the agent of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence society was well attended and enjoyed.

—The poles are erected between Zear and Monroe bridge, a distance of eight miles, and the wire will soon be stretched, connecting us telephonically with everywhere.

—Highways are being put in a good shape for travel, as is much needed.

—Rev. Edward Pressy has been called to the Unitarian church and has accepted the call.

MAMMY'S DISAPPOINTMENT.

The Character of Her Mistress' Guests Did Not Please Her.

The wife of a member of the cabinet brought with her to Washington last fall an old-fashioned colored mammy who is famous for her piety and her cooking, and the dinner she has prepared during the last two seasons have been the delight of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps because they have been so different from the conventional dinners furnished by fashionable caterers and French chefs. There has been nothing like them in Washington since the war. But the other day Aunt Melinda came to her mistress with a very solemn air and decided that she would go back to Georgia, that she could not live in "dis hyah wicked, God forsaken town no more."

A little questioning disclosed the cause of dissatisfaction. Mammy's heart was broken.

"Ise toiled an' I'spired in dat dark ole basement kitchen, ober dat good for nothin' range, which ain't no place for decent cooking nubbun, 'specially for such as has had cook houses all ter themselves, an' I've got de best dinners in de town, an' se you've told me so you've said, Miss Susie, an' de best dinner ever an' ministers who comes hyar so often was gonud men. But las' week I find dey's nuthin but good for nothin' worlness, triflin' trash, dat ain't no preacher's talk, and ain't no better dan infidels. Dey don't preach no church, an' dey don't go to no church, an' dey ain't got no religion, an' dey ain't no on yout's speak de Christian language. I can't look for no such folks, Miss Susie, no, I can't. I belong to de Lo'd's people, an' I can't."

"But, Linda," remonstrated the mistress, "they are ladies and gentlemen and have done no wrong. If you mistook them for members of the gospel, it was not their fault. They never pretended to be. They are members of the diplomatic corps, representatives of foreign governments who come to see the president, and they are called ministers for that reason. I don't want you to go away. I can't get on without you. You go back to the kitchen and think it over."

"Ise done think it ober, Miss Susie, and I've tasted an' Ise prayed, but nobody has no right to call himself a minister unless he preaches de gospel. Dey is wolvers in de sheep's clothing, an' Jesus had no part wid dem furrins' An' sech."

"But Jesus was a foreigner," responded the mistress. "Jesus did not live in this country. He lived in Turkey, and the Turkish minister is one of those that come here."

"Ise told Matilda gazed at her mistress with astonishment. "Is you shoah ob dat?" she exclaimed.

"Yes, get your Bible and I'll read you about it."

So began mammy's lessons in ecclesiastical geography and history, which resulted in modifying her sentiments, but she will not recede from her determination when she discovered that the foreign ministers at Washington were not gospel men.

—Washington Letter in Chicago Record.

Freely Story About a Dog.

The dog has often been called man's best friend, and one knows how often his presence in the house is worth more than any amount of moral maxims for children. A very suggestive little instance of this cropped up recently at Gordon on the hearing of a summons for keeping a dog without a license. The offense was admitted, but the defendant's wife pleaded that she only kept the animal because the children were so fond of it. At that moment she had a little girl ill, and she would not take her medicine unless the mother present to go with the dog first. No doubt the child's principles were, "Love me, love my dog," and if the mammy medicine was necessary for the good of the animal the doggie's little friend thought it must be good enough for her. No wonder the magistrates adjourned the case.

He dreamed he loved; his voice seemed stopped.
